Volunteers: Ruth*, Charlotte

Student : Young hye, Jing Sun, Yunyoung, Yoko, Mika, Kathy, Satoko, Wu Zhu

We began by welcoming Wu Zhu, and introducing ourselves. We then reviewed the beginning of the EEN article, and continued from the 'Clean Safely'. The students preferred to do the reading. There were a significant number of words that needed clarification. I asked them to read the sentence before and after and see if they could figure out what the word might mean. The students were given containers of cleaning products such as floor cleaner, detergent, and Windex and asked to find the caution statements on each and read them out loud so we could make sure the cautions were clearly understood by all.

Following break, the students were given a sheet with four categories (food, animals, places, and things that are green) across the top and four letters (t, b, p, and f) down the right side of the page. The instructions were to write as many things they could think of that began with those letters and fit into the categories.
