Laureen's Notes -

We broke into two groups for the first portion of class.

Joyce led Grp A in small group pronunciation, downstairs. We both used one of the 365 Essays For English Learners - #17. Veteran's Day - A Holiday Honoring All Soldiers.

In Grp B., Charlotte read the story out-loud first, by sentence, and the students took turns repeating it back to her. We answered any questions they had about the vocabulary or concepts, and then the students took turns reading the story out-loud, by themselves.

Then we were joined by Grp A for coffee, and afterwards, we did Mixed Up Scramble Sentences #1, for fun.
