

Volunteers: Linda*, Ruth

Students : Yoko, Jing Sun, Guosheng, Marie, Rainbow

Began with a lesson and practice with pronouncing the 'er' sound. When Linda showed how to form the sounds with pushing the sound out, students mentioned that their English teachers in Japan and China had them make the sound with their mouths flattened.

We then read the second half of the Easy News article on wildfires. Linda showed the students on a map where in California the fires were. We also talked about hearing on the news that there were now new fires. We answered the last four questions.

Then we talked about having to evacuate and asked the students what they would keep in an emergency bag for a quick evacuation.

Finally, we talked about one of the idioms - "to have butterflies in one's stomach".
